

Finding evidence via handheld device

Database	App?	Website Interface
TRIP database	Yes (Apple devices only at present)	Good – adapted for mobile
NICE Guidance	NICE Guidance app Browse by topic <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Conditions and diseases</li> <li>● Health protection</li> <li>● Lifestyle and wellbeing</li> <li>● Populations</li> <li>● Service delivery, organisation and staffing</li> <li>● Settings</li> </ul> Browse by type <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Cancer guideline</li> <li>● Clinical guideline</li> <li>● Diagnostics guideline</li> <li>● Etc.</li> </ul> New updated guidance Bookmarks View history BNF; BNF for children	Good – adapted for mobile
Cochrane Library	Yes <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● After installing app, download issues to search</li> </ul>	Good - adapted for mobile
PubMed	Yes – Basic	Adapted for mobile. No advanced search facility. No download function

*Morwenna Rogers, Information specialist, Making Sense of Evidence Team Member
 Edmund Jack, GP, Clinical Champion for Making Sense of Evidence, PenCLAHRC
 14/5/19*